FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!!!—The Kalamazoo Mutual Insurance Company, incorporated in 1834, is prepared to execute policies for any amount, for the purpose of insuring against fire. To that part of the community who have never witnessed the result of the mutual insurance system, it may be necessary to say, that wherever it has been adopted, it has invariably succeeded beyond the sanguine anticipations of its friends. When it is considered that the insurance is, in effect, but a voluntary association of individuals, pledged to bear each other's losses in just and equitable proportions—that no combination of wealth or money-making scheme can possibly influence its operations or divert it from its legitimate and proper course, a prudent and common foresight will prompt to an immediate connection with it.

The facilities for becoming members of the association may be within the reach of every person, agents or may be appointed in all the principal towns and villages in the state, to whom application may be made whenever insurance is required. A prompt and ready attention to duty, on the part of agents, will uniformly be expected, as upon this alone depends in a great degree the prosperity and success of the company. They are also desired to spread such useful and correct information relative to the nature, prospects and operations of the institution as will promote its interests and give the public mind a full and correct understanding on the subject.

Persons are requested to forward the names of responsible persons to act as agents in towns where appointments have not already been made.
The following are some of the agents of the company:
J. M. Howard, Detroit; A. F. Welch, Monroe; R. Manning, F. Darrow, Pontiac; A. N. Hart, Lapeer; Wm. R. Thompson, Ann Arbor; Daniel Coleman, Jacksonburgh; C. D. Smith, Marshall; Robert Clark, White Pigeon; J. A.
Smith, Schoolcraft; C. Lovell, Kalamazoo; R.
Ransom, Comstock; A. B. R. Lewis, Romeo; C. P. A. Smith, B. H. Cr. &c.

VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOKS.— THE AMERICAN CLASS READER, containing a series of lessons in Reading; with Introductory Exercises in Articulation, Inflection, Emphasis, and the other essential elements of correct natural Elocution; designed for Academic and Common Schools. By GEORGE WILSON, formerly Principal of the Canandaigua Academy, and late Principal of the Livingston Co.
High School.

The design of the American Class-reader, is to teach scholars to read. It is not sufficient for this purpose, that a book be instructive and entertaining, the teacher should be able to instruct in the use of the book. It should be also properly adapted to exercise the reader in all the varied tones, inflections, and other requisites that belong to correct elocution.

Four lessons are inserted without punctuation.
These will furnish tests of the degree of intelligence, and of attention to the sense, with which the pupil reads. They may also be used in teaching punctuation, and the use of capitals.

A considerable number of lessons have been selected from the Bible. Apart from the importance and value of its divine instructions, the Sacred Scriptures abound in passages unrivalled in natural, impressive eloquence, and admirably adapted to the purpose of improving in elocution.

In what is called rhetorical dialogue, selections can no where else be found at all comparable.
A PRACTICAL AND THEORETICAL SYSTEM OF ARITHMETIC, containing several new methods of operation, and a new system of notation; with Theoretical explanations of all the principal rules. Also, a treatise on Mensuration, and a brief practical system of Book-keeping. By the author of the American Class Reader.

[This system of Arithmetic is designed for the more advanced pupils in common Schools and Academies. It does not attempt to combine mental arithmetic with the use of the slate, nor to unite in one book a treatise for children of six, and for youths of sixteen years old. In mental arithmetic, every thing that could be desired, has been done by Colburn whose admirable little work is now so generally used and highly appreciated throughout the United States.]

Mr. Morse:
Sir—Having carefully examined "The American Class-Reader," by GEORGE WILSON, I hesitate not to express my opinion decidedly in its favor; because I deem it a work classic in its selections, classical in point of diction, and admirably calculated to assist youth in becoming correct readers. I hope that it will be universally adopted in our schools.

I have also examined your "Practical and Theoretical Arithmetic," by the same author, containing several new methods of operation, and a new system of notation; and hesitate not to say, that it is the best work I have seen of the kind.

DANIEL GIBBS.
Teacher of the Select School, Vienna, N. Y.
Vienna, June 18, 1836.

Copy of a letter from the Rev. I. S. Spencer, formerly Principal of the Canandaigua Academy.
BROOKLYN, May 19, 1836.

Mr. Morse:
Sir—I have very carefully examined "The American Class-Reader," by "GEORGE WILSON," and have no hesitation in expressing my opinion of its excellence. I consider it the best work, for the purpose for which it was designed, that I have ever seen. I am confident it will be found emphatically beneficial both to Teachers and Pupils; and cannot but desire its immediate adoption in our Academies and Schools.

L. S. SPENCER.
